Introduction

The turmoil in financial markets over the past four years has caused investors to become more risk averse. Wealth preservation has become the most important investment objective for many investors but they still have to place their money where they think it will achieve the best return for a given level of risk. The challenge, however, is to determine the level of risk that is commensurate with the potential return that may be achieved.

Structured deposits offer a solution to this by enabling investors to manage their risk exposure for a given level of potential return. The opportunity cost is the risk free rate of return that would otherwise be earned over the same investment term. Investors must therefore evaluate the trade-off between these returns in their quest for better performance.

Other factors that need to be considered include the underlying asset of the investment and the term of the deposit. Taking all of these factors into account, investors are increasingly using structured deposits as a separate component in the construction of their investment portfolios in order to produce a more optimal trade-off between risk and return.

Product suitability

This product is suitable for investors who:

- have at least €25,000 to invest
- are satisfied with the creditworthiness of KBC Bank Ireland plc, a wholly owned subsidiary of Belgian-based KBC Bank NV
- have a low risk tolerance (total investment return has a very low level of variability)
- are able to commit funds for 5 years and do not anticipate any need to withdraw that money before the Maturity Date, even in the case of an emergency
- are willing to accept a total potential return over the deposit term that will be within a range of 20.0% to 21.0% (4.0% to 4.18% AER)

Investment Rationale

The economic policy dilemma

The western world is still suffering from the effects of the financial crisis and economic collapse in 2008. The fundamental problem continues to be the excessive level of debt that has accumulated over the past 30 years. The challenge facing governments and central banks is how to contain the debt crisis and at the same time maintain economic activity during the deleveraging process that is now taking place.

Market response in the US

After several months of disappointing economic news in the US, the Federal Reserve has embarked on a buying programme of residential mortgage securities. With low economic growth expectations, declining growth in corporate earnings and a budgetary impasse looming in the New Year, investors in both the bond and equity markets in the US appear to be confident of a positive outcome.

Euro crisis continuing

The European sovereign debt crisis is a consequence of the huge savings and investment imbalances that have accumulated over recent decades, The European Central Bank's government bond purchasing plan may stabilise bond yields but the bank solvency and local authority funding crises in Spain have highlighted the need, yet again, for a long term solution to deal with the shortcomings of the euro currency system.

Risk appetite increasing

Despite economic and budgetary difficulties, equity markets have been propelled by strong earnings and by abundant liquidity that has been recycled into government bonds, driving yields down and forcing investors to move up the risk curve in the quest for higher returns. The ongoing recapitalisation of the US and Eurozone financial systems and a slowdown in economic growth in China suggests that official interest rates will stay lower for longer and that equity markets may trade within a relatively narrow range.

Linking the Bonus Coupon to the EURO STOXX 50 Index

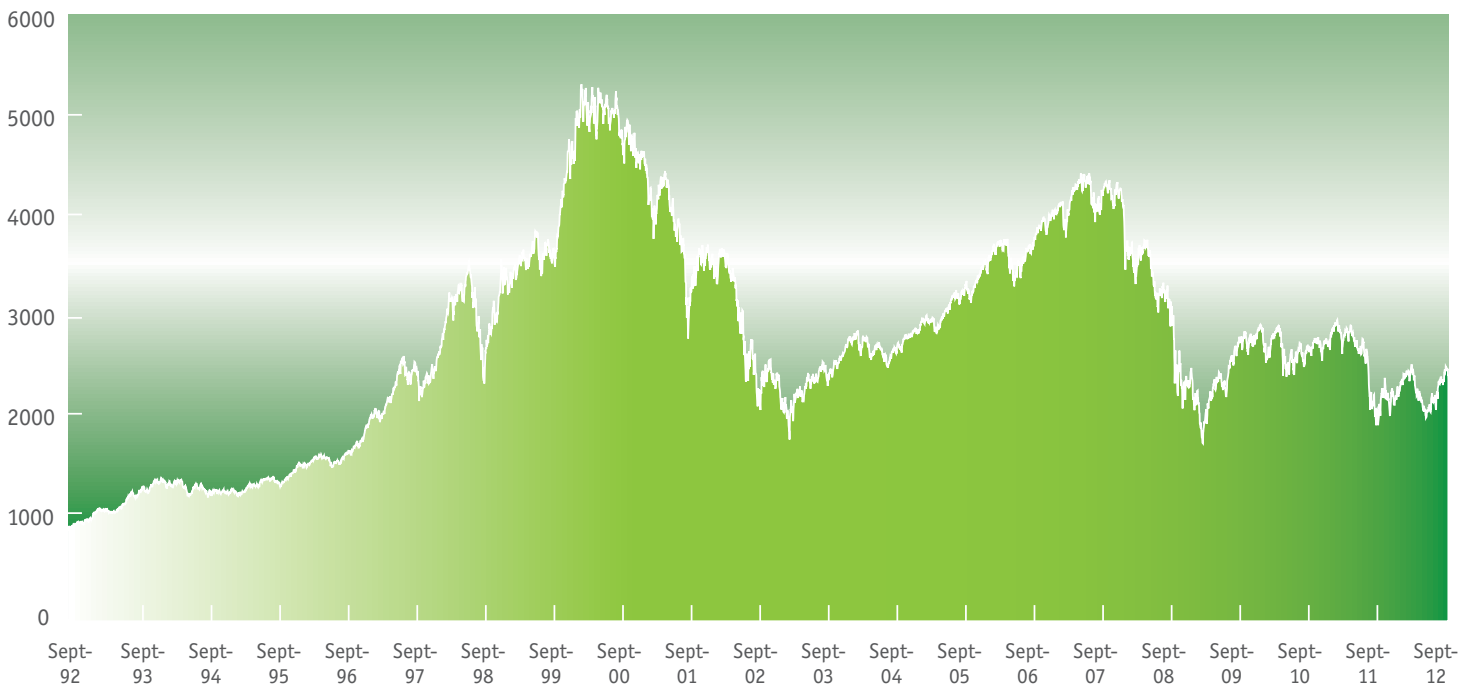

At 28 September 2012, the EURO STOXX 50 Index was 46% below its high point reached in July 2007. In contrast to the Standard & Poor's 500 Index which was 8% below its October 2007 high point and has rebounded by 113% since March 2009, the EURO STOXX 50 has recovered by just 36% over the same period.

EURO STOXX 50 Index

Historical Perspective

The chart below shows the price movement of the Index over 20 years from the end of September 1992 to the end of September 2012.

Bonus Coupon Analysis

The Condition to earn the Bonus Coupon is that the Final Price of the Index on the Maturity Date is greater than the Start Price on the Start Date.

Looking at historical data over twenty years to 28 September 2012 and investing in the EURO STOXX 50 Index every day over that period (3,857 start dates), the average performance of the Index over every five year period was 49.4% within a range of -55% to +322%. The five year performance of the Index would have been positive 50.5% of the time and negative 49.5% of the time.

Warning: Past performance is not a reliable guide to future performance.

Investment Returns

KBC Bank Ireland plc provides 100% capital security on the Account which offers a minimum fixed return of 4.0% per annum (AER 4.0%).

In addition, there is the potential to earn at maturity a Bonus Coupon of 1.0% if the Final Price of the EURO STOXX 50 Index is greater than the Start Price (the 'Bonus Condition'). Otherwise, no Bonus Coupon will be earned.

All Coupons will be paid at the end of the year to which they refer (minimum 20.0%, AER 4.0%; maximum potential 21.0%, AER 4.18%).

The table below illustrates how potential returns are calculated, based on a set of assumed interest payments and a DIRT rate of 30% in respect of the Fixed Coupon and 33% in respect of the Bonus Coupon.

Key Features

How does the Secure Income Plus Account work?

1. The Product Producer is:

KBC Bank Ireland plc, Sandwith Street, Dublin 2.

2. Brief Description of the Benefits of the Account:

The Secure Income Plus Account is a 5 year deposit based product that has two income generating components: a Fixed Coupon which pays a fixed rate of 4.0% every year (AER 4.0%) and a Bonus Coupon which potentially pays an additional 1.0% (AER 0.2%) to investors at the end of the investment term.

The Bonus Coupon is dependent on the future investment performance of the EURO STOXX 50 Index. If the Final Price of the Index on the Maturity Date is higher than the Start Price on the Start Date, the Bonus Coupon will be paid to the investor. Otherwise no Bonus Coupon will be paid.

The minimum return that may be earned on the Bonus Coupon is 0.0% (AER 0.0%). The maximum potential return that may be earned on the Bonus Coupon is 1.0% (AER 0.2%). The minimum return that the Bank promises to pay is the total return that is earned on the Fixed Coupon, namely 20.0% (AER 4.0%) over the investment term.

The maximum potential total return that may be earned on the Account is 21.0% (AER 4.18%), which includes both the Fixed Coupon and Bonus Coupon for the duration of the Account.

100% capital security is provided on the Account by KBC Bank Ireland plc.

3. Dividends:

The Secure Income Plus Account Series 14 will not directly invest in securities which are constituents of the Index and by investing in the Account, neither you, as an investor in the Account, nor the Bank will benefit from any dividends paid on those securities.

4. Currency Risk:

The performance of the Index is calculated according to the change in its nominal level and there is consequently no exposure to exchange rates in the Account.

Where does my investment go?

Your proposed investment will be used, at the date of the investment, as follows:

- 100% of your investment will be held on deposit with the Bank. In relation to Interest payable on the Account, you will be entitled to the payment of such Interest annually after deduction of tax (if applicable) in addition to the return of 100% of your investment at maturity.
- The Bank may enter into a swap arrangement with a third party whereby the Bank may agree to exchange the income stream generated by the deposit of your investment for such sums as may be necessary to pay any Interest due on the Account. Any such swap arrangement made by the Bank will not affect the obligation of the Bank with regard to any Interest payable to you under the terms of issue of the Account.
- Any benefit that the Bank receives from your investment over and above the Interest that is payable to you under the terms of the Secure Income Plus Account will be for the Bank's own account. In the event that the Secure Income Plus Account is distributed through an appointed intermediary of the Bank, a distribution fee up to 1.75% of the investment sum will be payable by the Bank to that intermediary. Any intermediary remuneration will not affect the allocation of your investment in the Secure Income Plus Account or any Interest payable to you under the terms of issue of the Account.

Do I have access to my investment?

Your investment is for the fixed term of the Account and is intended only for investors who do not require access to their investment prior to its maturity. No withdrawal may be made before the end of the Term. The ongoing cost of funding the underlying structure that will pay any interest to you during the investment term means that the capital secure portion of the Account is only payable within 5 business days of the Maturity Date. During the investment term, it may be difficult to obtain reliable information about its value or the extent of the risks to which it is exposed.

What happens if I die before the Account matures?

In the event of the death of a sole investor or surviving joint account holder prior to the expiry of the Term, the Account will continue to the Maturity Date in the name of the executor or administrator. On the death of a joint Account holder, the money standing to the credit of the Account will be paid to or to the order of the survivor(s) within 5 business days of the Maturity Date.

What about tax?

Interest payable on the Account is subject to Deposit Interest Retention Tax ("DIRT") where applicable. DIRT is currently payable at 30% in respect of the Fixed Coupon and 33% in respect of the Bonus Coupon. On any such interest, DIRT will be deducted prior to any Interest being paid. You should include this interest amount, before DIRT, in your income tax return for the year in which it is received. Both the rate of tax and tax rules are subject to change without notice.

Some Irish resident investors, such as individuals over 65 and those who are permanently incapacitated, may be entitled, in certain circumstances and subject to the completion of certain declaration forms, to be paid interest without the deduction of DIRT. Companies, pension funds, non-resident investors and registered charities may be entitled, in certain circumstances, to be paid interest without deduction of DIRT. It is the responsibility of investors to obtain any tax relief that may apply. Tax reliefs are those currently applying, are subject to change without notice and apply directly to the customer.
